

WISHBONE is an innovative start-up located in Flemalle (Liege). We are engaged in the development of intraoral bone regeneration biomaterials. WISHBONE is launching its industrialization and production activities in a brand new production unit. To ensure this challenging development, we are hiring a :

Production Technician (m/f)

Your responsibilities

Bone cleaning and slicing, slices cleaning and freezing

Perform process product and equipment manipulations in the frame of industrialization or development actions

- Participate to the pre-industrialization experiments and development of new products. Follow protocols and monitor ongoing manipulations and write reports and procedures.
- Analyze the effect of a change in the process of production and report – register operations
- Participate in the testing and validation of production equipments
- Suggest areas for improvement to optimize process (cost reduction, time reduction, waste management, ...) and improve product quality.

In charge of the execution of various production steps

- Work under specific constraints linked to production in a cleanroom
- Perform the steps of the manufacturing process and packaging materials
- Follow the procedures compliance (production and quality), produce batch records and transmit it to I&P Engineer
- Judge unplanned events and transmit them to I&P Engineer, intervene in case of difficulties during the manufacturing process and ensure the first step maintenance
- Respect rigor, order and cleanliness in cleanroom

Document all work on applicable records and forms, in English

Your Profile

- Scientific bachelor (chemistry, biology, laboratory technician)
- Be familiar with quality standards :
 - GMP clean room Class ISO-7 management and in GMP standard

- Quality Management System ISO 13485 and corresponding chapter linked to process & product development
- Cleaning and protection equipment
- Ability to work in a start up environment (adaptability, collaboration, versatility, interest in the challenges)
- Ability to work in team
- Organized, quick, efficient, honest, independent and solution-oriented
- Good verbal and written english

We offer

This is a stimulating position for a renewable 3-months contract in a fast growing start-up and an advanced technology environment. With this full-time position, you act in a stimulating and professional atmosphere. You have real responsibilities and great autonomy. Besides continuous training, we offer salary and benefits related to your skills level.

To apply, please send us your CV and cover letter to : info@wishbone-biotech.com