1. Bases de données scientifiques

PubMed (recherche possibles de données épidémiologiques, statistiques et ~ économiques) > <http://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/mesh>

Frequently Requested Searches

The National Guideline Clearinghouse™ (NGC) has created stored searches to assist NGC users in finding guidelines related to frequently requested topics.

The topics listed below reflect critical focus areas of the healthcare community, including priority areas of the Institute of Medicine \(IOM\) and Healthy People 2010. The primary focus areas are arranged alphabetically. You can also use NGC's Detailed Search to create your own search of the NGC database.

Note: Due to the complexity of the search strategies used to create some of the searches listed below, it may take several seconds to render the results.
